From your Club Captain

The high humidity (the sauna) made what one wanted to do sometimes impossible! This was February, I hope you made use of the great weather that we have eased back into the new year with. Club nights have been well attended.

I cannot believe how busy the past two months have been at work, more so than last year – a sign of more financial times hopefully. I haven't attended the clubrooms as much as I would like, trying to catch up with my studies which got put aside through the Christmas/New Year frenzy.

Hope you've had a look at the new website – it's certainly bright and as we get the time more info will be put up, particularly around ART. There have been several enquiries for club round and ART forms which people have had difficulty in locating – these are available under the tab "Resources" which clearly shows "rules, regulations, forms"; these type of enquiries are not unusual, on the old website the forms were on the front page but people didn't scroll down to find them!! Membership forms can also be found in this area.

March is a busy month for the club with ART and Club Series Round 4 on the first weekend, followed the weekend after with a testing day at Hampton Downs and then the last weekend Round 5 of the Nationals. The season isn't over tho, April sees another ART day on the 18th and Round 5 of the Club Series on the 24th – then we can breath a sigh of relief.

June is not that far away and AGM is coming around again. It's not too early to start thinking about contributing to the club. I am not standing for Club Captain for the 2010/2011 season due to my work and study commitments so I hope someone out there is willing to take up the mantle of social director. I have thoroughly enjoyed the 5 years I've been CC tho would have liked more enthusiasm for the weekend road rides organised at the beginning of my tenure – perhaps the new Club Captain will have more luck with that one! It's not arduous, other than getting the report in for the newsletter on time!!

See you in the club sometime soon!!

Dear Dave

A quick note of thanks for your kind invitation to our Club members to the Interclub Night held last week.

Although only two of our members were able to avail themselves of the kind invitation, they both had such an enjoyable time that they have asked me to formally thank you.

What a great initiative, well done.

Yours sincerely

Smoke Concert

The Auckland Motor Cycle Club are holding a Smoke Concert on July 15th, and all members are asked to attend. An invitation to all our cycling friends has been issued and it is hoped that many mutual matters may be discussed. Supper and items will help to make the evening an enjoyable one. So roll up, boys.

August 10, 1936

The Club held the annual Crawford Cup- on June 5th under most unpleasant weather conditions. However, either enthusiastic members started and all enjoyed the first run out fo the season. The route led out to Swanson via Brighams Creek and Birdwood and then up the Cascades Road into the bush. Brake tests and observed sections were held and tested the skill of all riders. A novel competition was held at the Waitakere Station, when riders had to judge a distance of one mile without the aid of speedometers. No rider came within a distance of 200 yards of the required mile. After a further brake test, the riders returned to the club rooms.

Waterers on 'Johannes'

o Farewell to all this.

Kenilworth, Friday 29th January

We have come to the end of our time here in Kenilworth as we have booked the ferry to Dunkirk for Monday morning. We will leave here on Saturday morning and go down to Southampton to spend the weekend with Steve and Joanne Jones at their home. They have a barge at St Symphorien, which is near St Jean de Losne and we have enjoyed their friendship and company for over 12 months now.

We are reluctant to leave Kenilworth, our stay here has been made so enjoyable by my cousin Paul and his wife Jenny who have been so hospitable towards us and allowed us the freedom of their warm and comfortable home. Warm in not only the physical sense but even more so in their friendly, good natured acceptance of us becoming part of their lives for the last few weeks. It has been a deeply memorable experience for Viv and myself and we both feel a great deal of gratitude to them. They have entertained many of their good friends in our presence, thus expanding our own circle of friendship and goodwill. We have been taken to visit folk and also attended a family funeral (my father's cousin) where I met second cousins that I never knew I had. We also had the pleasure of catching up with another cousin, John and his wife Stella in Oxfordshire, where we were invited to lunch last week.

We have experienced one of the most severe British winters for 30 years, so it is claimed and we have enjoyed that as well, in that the snow filled landscape was a novelty and a source of scenic delight for us. Not so good for those that had to go out to work of course. I am rather pleased that through it all I managed to go for a 8 km run every other night, snow and ice notwithstanding, and although it was cold, it was not enough to deter me, the satisfaction brought about was most rewarding. Also I have been able to go swimming regularly at the Kenilworth pool, senior citizens have free access including myself as a visitor. Vivienne continues with her yoga exercises within the house, so we leave here in a fit and well state. We would both like to return here in the future for a longer stay and Jenny and Paul have asked us to come back when we are able. We look forward to that as Kenilworth is a wonderful place to reside, lovely old town with all conveniences, not too big and with some good pubs and an iconic ruined castle. It is only 10 km to Coventry to the south and 8 km to Warwick and Leamington Spa to the west and, if you really, really need to go there, 20km to Birmingham in the north! The surrounding Warwickshire country side is as beautiful as anywhere in England I believe, but I am a bit biased.

We have also spent time in Lincolnshire with Louise and Keith and met many of their friends and family as well. We bought their surplus Vauxhall Omega Estate car from them and this is now our transport back to France. We shall meet up with them again in the Spring when they return to their boat which is also berthed in St Jean de Losne for the winter. It is still very wintry here in Britain, the snow has gone but it remains quite cold with only occasional bouts of sunshine, but the sun climbs higher in the sky day by day and the evenings are now light till almost 5pm, so spring is around the corner and hopefully there will not be any more extreme weather before then.
